

HEADS FIGHT FOR CONSERVATION

Aims and Principles of New Organization Set Forth. Taft Is Member.

CHICAGO, Sept. 16.—Former President Charles W. Eliot, of Harvard, will head the new National Conservation Association, the formation of which has just been announced by Walter L. Fisher, of Chicago, president of the Conservation League of America. President Taft, who has enrolled as a member, has sent Mr. Fisher his full approval of the plan.

The aims and principles of the new organization are set forth in its constitution, the preamble of which says: "The land should be so used that erosion and soil wash shall cease; that arid and semi-arid lands should be reclaimed by means of irrigation; that swamp and overflowed regions should be drained; that the waters should be so conserved as to promote navigation and develop water power in the interests of the people; that the forests which regulate our rivers, support our industries, and promote the fertility of the soil, be preserved and perpetuated; that the minerals found so abundantly underneath the surface should be so used as to prolong their utility; that the beauty, healthfulness, and habitability of our country should be preserved and increased."

Another important principle advocated is the retention by the Government of the title to all lands still in public ownership which contain phosphates, rock, coal, oil, or natural gas, and the development of the same by private enterprise under conditions which will prevent extortion and waste.

The new association will open headquarters in New York and ample funds will be forthcoming for its support.

CHINESE MINISTER BACK IN WASHINGTON

Dr. Wu Will Make Special Trip to Mexico Before Returning Home.

Dr. Wu Ting-fang, minister from China to the United States, who was notified of his recall while visiting Peru, to which he is also accredited as minister, got back to Washington this morning, after an absence of several months.

One of the first places he visited was the State Department. No special significance is attached to this call, it was learned today that before Dr. Wu goes back to China he will make a special trip to Mexico in the capacity of special ambassador from China, to thank the Mexican government for its sympathy and marks of respect shown at the time of the death and funeral of the late Emperor.

Leaves Soon. It is probable that Dr. Wu will leave Washington within the next two weeks for the country south of the Rio Grande. Probably he will not be back in Washington for two weeks after he leaves. It is considered unlikely that he will leave Washington for his home before December.

The new ambassador has not left China and it will take him at least six weeks to reach Washington after he does.

Another Factor. Another factor in determining the length of Dr. Wu's stay is that he is accredited not only to the United States, Peru, and Mexico, but also to Chile. He has never presented his credentials to the latter Republic, and it is possible he may be compelled to do so before he returns home.

Dr. Wu was tired out by his long journey and by an all-night ride from New York, and was not talkative. South America, however, he found most interesting.
